Time to eat!

Chi Fan Le or 吃饭了 means "time to eat" in Mandarin. It was a joyful phrase my mom would shout across the house to let everyone know dinner was ready.

Food has always been a way that my mom (and extended family) expressed their love. My mom is from Wuxi, which is known for adding lots of sugar to their dishes, even meats. My dad is from Weihai, often categorized as "the north" and known for its fresh seafood and eating lots and lots of dumplings.

Chi Fan Le came from my hopes to share with the community the taste of the love, care, and diversity of the nutritious Chinese food I grew up eating. We specialize in thoughtful, elevated, delicious homestyle Chinese buffet tables that leave guests feeling nourished, cared for and satiated.
